

Associate Professor Search Ad

Clemson University is a land grant, research institution located in Clemson, SC near the lower end of the Appalachian Mountains and halfway between Atlanta and Charlotte. The College of Education at Clemson University invites applications for an Associate Professor of counselor education, or for individuals who have faculty and research experience that would merit tenure at the level of Associate Professor. Clemson's counselor education program strives to prepare counselors who possess the skills and dispositions to work effectively with diverse populations and to engage in data-driven practices.

The Counselor Education program at Clemson University offers CACREP-accredited master's degree concentrations in School Counseling and Clinical Mental Health Counseling as well as educational specialist degrees in both areas. The program specialties serve a combination of full-time and part-time students. Courses are taught on campus and in Greenville, SC (30 miles north of campus), with the majority of classes being taught in Greenville. This is a nine-month position with optional summer teaching available.

Associate Professor in Counselor Education

Start date: August 2020.

Responsibilities:

- Engaging in scholarly activities focused on research, peer-reviewed publications, external funding, and conference presentations
- Teaching classes in a CACREP specialty area (current tracks include clinical mental health counseling and school counseling) and the counseling core
- Supervising counseling practicum and internship students
- Advising master's students in counseling
- Participating in program, departmental, college, university, and professional service

Required Qualifications:

- Earned doctoral degree or degree in counselor education from a CACREP-accredited program
- Professional identity as a counselor educator
- Impactful level of sustained scholarship
- Record of pursuing external funding
- Evidence of excellence in teaching, supervision, and service in the field of counselor education

Preferred Qualifications:

- Record of receiving external funding
- Experience working with a counselor education doctoral program
- Professional experience as a counselor (beyond graduate internships)
- Licensed or license-eligible as an LPC

To Apply: The official announcement for this position will be posted soon, along with instructions on how and where to apply. In the meantime, inquiries about the position should be made to Dr. Corrine Sackett, at csacket@clemson.edu.

Clemson University is an AA/EEO employer and does not discriminate against any person or group on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, pregnancy, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, veteran status, or genetic information. Clemson University is building a culturally diverse faculty and staff committed to working in a multicultural environment and encourages applications from minorities and women.