

UNC
GREENSBORO

Department of Counseling and Educational Development

Associate/Full Professor, Tenure Track
Department of Counseling and Educational Development
School of Education

Faculty in the Department of Counseling and Educational Development (CED) in the School of Education at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro (UNCG) seeks a colleague at the Associate/Full Professor level who is able to teach within the CACREP core areas at both the master's and doctoral levels and provide leadership within the department. Individuals with experience in and ability to obtain research and/or training funding through federal grants, foundations, and contracts are strongly encouraged to apply. This position involves teaching and providing clinical supervision in both the master's and doctoral programs, serving on doctoral dissertation committees, pursuing external funding, contributing to quality scholarship within and outside of the field, providing service to the department, and program development. This position is a 9-month tenure track faculty position with the option of summer teaching beginning August 2019.

The Department offers programs in three areas (Clinical Mental Health Counseling, School Counseling, and Couple and Family Counseling) at the master's-level and a Ph.D. in Counseling and Counselor Education; all are accredited by CACREP. The position requires a PhD in Counselor Education from a CACREP accredited program, and applicants should have, or be eligible for, relevant counselor credentials (e.g., LPC, NCC, North Carolina school counselor license) in North Carolina. Members of diverse populations are strongly encouraged to apply. Knowledge and ability to teach in crisis and trauma, the application of neuroscience to counseling, and evidenced based practices is preferred for either position. Other areas of interest include, but are not limited to, program evaluation, assessment, and career counseling.

Review of candidates will begin October 18, 2019 and continue until the positions are filled. Applicants should submit a letter of interest, identifying the position they are applying for, along with a curriculum vita, names and contact information for three references, and a brief statement of teaching and supervision approaches. A research statement is also required for the Associate/Full tenure track position. Please see <https://hrs.uncg.edu> for information on benefits. UNCG is an EOE/AA/M/F/D/V employer and is strongly committed to achieving excellence through faculty diversity. The University actively encourages applications and/or nomination of persons of color, persons with Latinx background, persons with diverse backgrounds, and persons with disabilities.

Inquiries may be directed to Dr. Carrie Wachter Morris, Chair of the Search Committee, at cawmorris@uncg.edu. The University of North Carolina at Greensboro is a doctoral research-intensive university and a Minority Serving Institution (MSI) with over 20,000 students. UNCG is committed to its status as a diverse academic community as evidenced through teaching, research, and service. UNC Greensboro has been ranked among the "Great Colleges to Work For" by the Chronicle of Higher Education.

Position # 998708