

School of Education & Human Development
UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO DENVER

Assistant Professor, Clinical Teaching Track The Counseling Program School of Education & Human Development

The School of Education & Human Development at the University of Colorado Denver is seeking nominations and applications for the position of Assistant Professor, Clinical Teaching Track in the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP) accredited Counseling Program.

The University of Colorado Denver | Anschutz Medical Campus is a comprehensive urban research university serving more than 28,000 students in metropolitan Denver and online. We award nearly 4,000 degrees each year, including more graduate and professional degrees than any other Colorado public institution. With our solid academic reputation, award-winning faculty and renowned researchers, we offer 119 highly rated degree programs through 13 schools and colleges. The University of Colorado Denver | Anschutz Medical Campus is well known for its distinctive and highly productive research programs, its world-class health facilities at the Anschutz Medical Campus and its well-established partnerships in business, industry and government. These campuses currently have over $400 million in research awards each year.

Located in the heart of downtown Denver, CU Denver provides a vibrant, urban research university experience, with academic programs ranging from the liberal arts and sciences to global energy management, music industry studies and criminal justice among eight schools and colleges. The classroom extends into the city as students study, network and build careers in the surrounding business district. CU Denver unites quality academics, ambitious research and creative work, civic consciousness and driven students—all in the lively setting of downtown Denver. Read CU Denver Quick Facts here.

Rank: Assistant Professor, Clinical Teaching Track

Position availability: August 2020

Major Responsibilities:

- Teach graduate courses in the Counseling Program in Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP) core areas, specifically: foundations, techniques of counseling, advanced techniques, career counseling, group counseling, multicultural and social justice counseling, supervision of practicum and internship; possibly teach in the undergraduate B.S in Addictions and Recovery
- Infuse multicultural and diversity issues in all courses
- Participate in faculty meetings; provide committee service in the Counseling Program and the School of Education & Human Development

- Must be open to using electronic media for instruction, such as Canvas, as courses at CU Denver can be offered as face-to-face or hybrid formats.

Employment Conditions:

This is a full-time academic year, non-tenure-track position. Opportunity for summer teaching is available.

Required Qualifications:

- A doctorate in Counselor Education and Supervision from a CACREP accredited program.
- Commitment to the professional fields of Counseling and Counselor Education as evidenced by education, teaching, clinical experience, and professional affiliations (such as Association for Counselor Education and Supervision and the American Counseling Association).
- Demonstrated success or potential success for graduate-level teaching and advising and undergraduate teaching
- Licensed or license eligible as a Licensed Professional Counselor, or School Counselor in the state of Colorado. If hired, must be able to obtain License in Colorado within 6 months.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Evidence of cultural competency and inclusion in clinical work.
- Demonstrate bilingual (Spanish and English) competencies in working with culturally and linguistically diverse individuals and families.
- Clear evidence that race, ethnicity, class, gender, sexual orientation, religion, and veteran status and/or other social justice issues are addressed in syllabi, teaching, and supervision.
- Experience working with graduate students in instruction, supervision, and mentoring activities.
- Experience with addictions and recovery and the CAC certifications

Salary and Benefits

Salary is commensurate with qualifications. The University of Colorado offers a full benefits package. Information on University benefits programs, including eligibility, is located at <http://www.cu.edu/employee-services/benefits-university-colorado>.

Application Procedures

Please prepare the following materials for submission. All applications must be submitted through the University's online job application site:

<https://www.cu.edu/cu-careers>

1. A letter of application including the candidate's qualifications, experience, and interests related to the responsibilities of the position.
2. A current curriculum vitae.
3. This position requires 3 confidential letters of recommendation. Please submit names, daytime telephone numbers and e-mail addresses for three recommendation providers who have specific knowledge of the skills you possess that apply to this position. We will request reference letters from your contacts at a later stage in the search process.

4. Selected portfolio materials such as: examples of current research and publications, a research agenda/plan, course syllabi, evaluations of teaching effectiveness, philosophy of teaching, courses taught to date, partnership activities, and involvement with members of diverse communities.

Review of applications will begin immediately, and continue until the position is filled. All materials received become the property of the University of Colorado Denver.

Address inquiries about the application process or submission of application materials to: SEHDHR@ucdenver.edu.

Address inquiries regarding the faculty position to the search committee chair: Dr. Troyann I. Gentile at troyann.gentile@ucdenver.edu

Reference checks are a standard step in our hiring process. You may be asked to provide contact information, including e-mail addresses, for up to 5 references if you are referred to the Hiring Authority for interview. We will notify you prior to contacting both on and off-list references.

The University of Colorado Denver | Anschutz Medical Campus is dedicated to ensuring a safe and secure environment for our faculty, staff, students and visitors. To assist in achieving that goal, we conduct background investigations for all prospective employees.

The University of Colorado Denver | Anschutz Medical Campus is committed to recruiting and supporting a diverse student body, faculty and administrative staff. The university strives to promote a culture of inclusiveness, respect, communication and understanding. We encourage applications from women, ethnic minorities, persons with disabilities and all veterans. The University of Colorado is committed to diversity and equality in education and employment.